FAT FAD...

I "eat to live", not the opposite. It appears otherwise for many, if not most Americans, now that ample food is available to all but 100 per cent of U.S. natives.

Soft foods, sugar, fat and refined grain are a part of the problem. Some private colleges even now are running students through weight-height comparisons and compelling diets or disciplinary action.

Americans snack and drink soft drinks 'til their teeth depart and their waistlines disappear.

One point of view:

QUOTE--Food faddism is promoted from birth. Sugar is a major ingredient in baby food desserts. Then come the artificially flavored and colored breakfast cereals loaded with sugar, followed by soda pop and hot dogs. Meat marbled with fat and alcoholic beverages dominate the diets of many middle-aged people. And, of course, white bread is standard fare throughout life.

QUOTE--This diet -- high in fat, sugar, cholesterol and refined grains -- is the prescription for illness; it can contribute to obesity, tooth decay, heart disease, intestinal cancer and diabetes. And these diseases are, in fact, America's major health problems. So if any diet should be considered faddist, it is the standard one. Our far-out diet -- almost 20 percent refined sugar and 45 percent fat -- is new to human experience and foreign to all other animal life...UNQUOTE.

--Nutrition Action, March-April, 1975

118-118-118

Everybody is aware that Americans eat an odd diet for the abundance of balanced-diet foods available. We are not gourmet cooks nor gourmet eaters on the whole. We pay the price in heart attack and stroke, conditioned by consumer excesses.

Our life expectancy continues to lengthen, oddly enough. But old age is less fun overweight.

I am still at college tennis playing weight. Some people might resent the fortunate metabolism I enjoy to go with a light appetite. I eat two meals a day.

I guess my thing is believing that you don't have to take off what you don't put on, even if excesses in wheat germ, yogurt and broccoli meant more pounds.

The best fad is no fad at all.

County On Disaster List

Milam is among seven counties Gov. Dolph Briscoe has asked be declared disaster areas by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

County commissioners asked the governor to declare the county a disaster area at the end of October, after reports showed crop losses in Milam would total $6,401,000.

The lack of adequate rainfall since the Spring has meant loss of crops for farmers and grazing for cattlemen.

The reports sent in to the Governor's office were compiled by Douglas Buck, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service director; Bill McCutchen, Milam County Extension agent; Don Jones, director of the Soil Conservation Service; and Henry Ivey, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration.

Reports claimed that some 3,000 Milam County farmers and ranchers suffered production losses: 200 with 60-69 percent loss; 600 with a 50-59 percent loss; 700 with losses of 40 to 49 percent; 1000 with losses of 30-39 percent; 400 with loss of 20-29 percent; and 100 with losses of less than 20 percent.

Losses to this year's crops included: grain sorghum, $2,480,000; cotton, $1,200,000; corn $153,000; hay, $900,000; peanuts, $168,000; and grazing and small grains $1,500,000.

The county is asking for $2,000,000 in credit from the USDA in the form of long-term low-interest loans from the FmHA.

Buck said things are bad for the livestock producers, as stock tanks are very low and grazing is becoming scarce. He said some producers started supplementary feeding a month and a half ago, and that such feeding operations are "way above normal."

He added that heavy runs at the auction barn indicate that cattlemen are culling their calves ahead of schedule, as the runs have been above normal in recent weeks.

Buck said he does not know how long it will take for the disaster status request to be granted or acted upon.

Other counties included in the governor's request are Bell, Coryell, Dimmit, Freestone, Hamilton and Tarrant. Three other Central Texas counties -- Falls, Williamson and Lampasas -- requested disaster status but were not included in the Governor's request to the USDA.

Rains Too Late For Most Ag Problems

This week's rains came a little too late to help most of the agriculture in the county, except for making it easier for farmers to ready fields for next year's crops, County Agent Bill McCutchen said Tuesday.

McCutchen said the summer and fall drought has really hurt the cattlemen most, with a little over half the normal hay crop harvested. Some producers have been feeding their stock for several weeks, when normally they would start feeding after the first frosts stopped pasture growth.

He said some small grains, which were dry-planted, came up and are available for grazing, but growth on this forage will also stop with the first frosts of the winter.

"Cattlemen are really in a bind," the agent said, adding that some have sold everything they had and others have culled heavily. He expects more cattle to move to the market after first frost.

He said the current heavy runs at auction tend to depress prices, and that in the spring prices will probably be up for replacement stock.

Alcoa Rockdale Works Marks 25th Year

An observance marking a milestone in the progress of Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works is on tap Friday (November 11) when Alcoa President Bill Renner of Pittsburgh rededicates the 25-year-old facility, which went from a small wartime smelter to the nation's largest aluminum-making facility.

It's all part of Rockdale Works' entry in the company's 25-Year Club and both Alcoa's and communities in which they live will participate, according to Fred P. Bergeron, Texas area manager.

To mark Rockdale's quarter-century anniversary, the Alcoa president will meet with several groups including the Union Executive Committee for breakfast; coffee and rolls with employees for rededication ceremonies; a plant tour; lunch with Central Texas business and government leaders.

Renner will be accompanied to Rockdale by three vice-presidents from Alcoa's Pittsburgh headquarters -- S. Alfred Jones, vice-president, operating primary metals; Charles W. Parry, vice-president, operations primary products and James A. McGowan, executive vice president, operations primary products.

Also, he will note the progress of the plant, which has undergone almost continuous expansion and modernization in the past quarter century.

The original four-potline plant was expanded by two more lines in 1956 and the Central Texas smelter became Alcoa's largest in 1969 with the addition of the seventh and eighth lines. For the first time, Alcoa began producing more aluminum in Texas than in any other state.

Rockdale Works produces 1.6 million pounds of aluminum daily. It leaves the plant as the traditional 700-pound ingot and the large ingot, which are cast up to 40,000 pounds; in atomized aluminum powder; and in redraw rod, which is shipped to Alcoa's electrical conductor -- or wire-fabricating plants, primarily Marshall Works.

In dollars and cents, Rockdale Works means an annual payroll of $30 million -- or some $2.5 million of spending power each month.

Sheriff, Deputies Break Up Fight At SPJST Hall

The sheriff's department was called out to Buckholts Sunday night to break up a free-for-all fist fight that broke out at the SPJST Hall during a dance. Sheriff Leroy Broadus said seven persons were involved.

In other news from the department, Broadus said all his dispatchers are attending school to learn how to operate the new teletype system that is expected to be installed next week.

In the meantime, Broadus and his deputies are taking turns answering the phone and acting as dispatchers.

goes further. There's the $30 million in goods and services purchased annually from Central Texas businesses. Also, there's the $700,000 in city, school county and state taxes that the plant will pay this year, averaging $13,500 a week in taxes.

Rockdale Works is committed to being a good neighbor, says Bergeron, and contributes to surrounding communities in Central Texas where Alcoa's are scattered in a 60-mile radius of the plant.

For example, Alcoa Foundation funds are funneled by recommendation of Rockdale Works to Central Texas concerns such as hospitals, like Rockdale's Richards Memorial Hospital, which received $100,000 and 10 acres of land for the hospital site; Cameron's St. Edward Hospital, recipient of $25,000; the Johns Community Hospital in Taylor, which received $20,000; and Scott and White in Temple, recipient of $50,000.

Also, the Foundation gave $5,000 to the Lexington Community Park fund; $25,000 to the Baylor University Library; $5,000 to the Rockdale Little League, $500 to help bring the Dallas Symphony Orchestra to Milam County, and spread $5,000 in Thorndale and $1,500 in Cameron to help build tennis courts. This year Rockdale Works has given more than $4,600 to the United Way drives in Rockdale, Cameron and Taylor.

The observance this week will be reminiscent of Rockdale's first metal pour 25 years ago.

It was November 24, 1952, Thanksgiving week, and a large group of Central Texans were there to watch Rockdale Works' first boss -- a younger engineer destined to become Alcoa's chairman of the board -- John D. Harper and smelting division manager R. T. Whitel tip the vat to cast Rockdale's first ingot.

Alcoa Public Relations Vice President Bill Shepard, the plant's first public relations manager, remembers the date well. "We scheduled the first pour as close to Charles Martin Hall's initial aluminum 'production' as possible ... and missed it only four days," Bill reflects. Hall was the young Ohioan who developed the aluminum-making process used worldwide -- the Hall Electrolytic Process. He made his first metal on Thanksgiving Day in 1886.

'Mama Ella' Celebrates Her 100th Birthday

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

A 100th birthday celebration for Mrs. Ella N. Staten of Gause was highlighted by messages from the President of the United States and other officials on Saturday, Nov. 5.

An estimated 250 persons called during the celebration, held in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Etta Washington in Gause.

In addition to many lovely gifts greetings, telephone calls and telegrams from friends and relatives, Mrs. Staten proudly received greetings and certificates of honor from President and Mrs. Jimmy Carter, state senators, representatives, and Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Mrs. Staten, mother of eight children (three sons and five daughters) has lived to see her fifth generation. She has two living daughters, Mrs. Washington of Gause and Mrs. Alma Wanza of Houston, and one son, Edd Snelgro of Gause. She also has a devoted stepdaughter, Mrs. Allie Mae Swift of Hearne.

She has a number of grandchildren, great grandchildren, and great great grandchildren.

Mrs. Staten was first married to Walter Snelgro, who was a railroad foreman and supervisor for a number of years. They had five children. He died and she later was married to Will Staten who is also deceased. They had three children.

A member of the Zion Hill Baptist Church, she is still active spiritually and financially. She maintains contact with the missionary society, although she is seldom able to attend as she desires. She also contributes and donates to worthy causes.

Mrs. Staten, often referred to as "Mama Ella," continues to be blessed with an alert mind, always cheerful and pleasant. Her slogan for life has been that "If you can't say something good about a person, don't say anything." Her philosophy for a long life is "Never worry about the things you cannot change but ask God for guidance in changing those that you can change."

Only 10 Percent Registered In County Voted

Only about 10 percent of Milam County's registered voters went to the polls Tuesday for voting on seven proposed constitutional amendments.

Vote totals were: Amendment 1, criminal appeals 493 for and 302 against; Amendment 2, veterans land 461 for and 329 against; Amendment 3, bail 602 for and 200 against; Amendment 4, property tax 345 for and 445 against; Amendment 5, market associations 341 for and 448 against; Amendment 6, electronic banking 234 for and 553 against; Amendment 7, judicial committee 436 for and 346 against.

Statewide, voters rejected constitutional amendments that would allow electronic banking and the forming of marketing associations. The other five proposals passed.

Red Cross Benefits From United Way

(Another in a series about United Way agencies that will be aided in the fund drive in Cameron which is now underway.)

The Milam County Chapter of the American Red Cross receives funds from United Way, and these are available to help servicemen and their families, the blood program, and are there to give help in case of emergencies.

The service to military families may take the form of money for food, financial assistance for travel home and back, and the contacting of servicemen and families for transmitting birth and death messages.

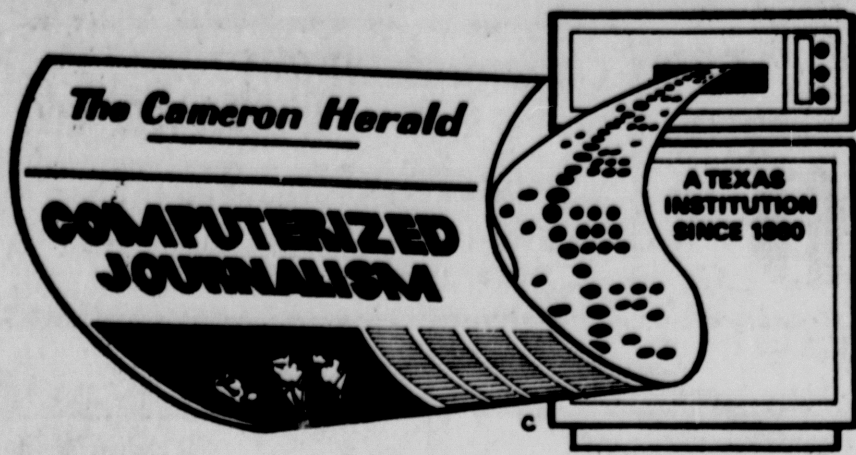

These services are available for both servicemen and their dependents, and for veterans.

In the case of an emergency, such as a tornado, flood or other disaster, the Red Cross would be there to help, augmented by the national organization.

Betty Joe Lanford of Rockdale, executive secretary and service representative for Milam County, said all funds given to the United Way in the county stay in the county.

Some of the funds are used for the blood program in Cameron, and these finance the canteen set up when the Red Cross bloodmobile comes each quarter. The funds also pay for the information posters and for the special plastic donor cards used in the blood program.

Synthesis: Breakdown...

NEWSWEEK talks of a "synthesis" resulting from a seeming shift to the right in this country. It is a word often used in these columns to describe what happened here when it needed to happen in the late 60s.

People are convinced the government is doing too much; yet people want government to continue to do some things. Vague enough? Supply your own interests because that is where government is invited into people's lives.

Farmers now want greater prices by government fiat because a combination of forces is continuing to press the smaller operations, which by even recent standards, are no longer small. The agriculture community is normally the most independent element of a culture.

For example, the Soviets finessed for years in dealing with the Kulaks or landowning White Russians following the 1917 Revolution, cited by an enormous display of Russian military hardware in Moscow's Red Square the other day. It was the 60th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The Kulaks in effect defied the successful communist revolutionaries for years because they controlled land on which the foodstuffs of a hardpressed revolution depended. This is not to say Russia has not gone to co-operative farming, where American agriculture is headed, but private ownership of land probably lasted decades longer among Russian farmers than anywhere else in that revolutionary culture.

People are still going through more social changes because of the major shifts to metropolitan life. They are not all going "to go home again." But some will try to find the simpler life of industrial-based, non-metro life.

The successful challenges to national Equal Rights Amendment ratification in state legislatures for example, has caused ERA advocates, which include most of the recent presidents and their wives, to ask for five more years to gain the necessary three-fourths approval among the states. Your Herald has already anticipated ERA's failure because it constitutionalizes what is already federal law or is possible through other constitutional processes. And competent legal scholarship questions ERA's value for women in the appeals process through which constitutional validity is established.

Unless people live in a vacuum, and it is possible even common to find people so immersed in their own problems of survival or disinterest, people want the same things. Income, health, identity, companionship, continuity are our commonality.

And in this near-21st century society, central government has offered access to some of these at the large expense of others. That expense now is mounting to the point of synthesis that NEWSWEEK cites, the point where big is both liability and necessity, and people are beginning to choose among the alternatives without denying the whole.

Cameron has worked successfully as a city and county seat in solving basic problems in economics, government, social problems by a synthesis of solution: rejecting, accepting, mixing alternatives. What is resulting is a synthesis which indeed is ahead of a national mood shifting rightward.

This shift will give politicians moments if not anguish over how to get ahead of movements which elect public officials. Jimmy Carter low-keyed his way to a plurality win, for example, while literally dozens of prospects failed with established constituencies and powerbases. The problem is anticipating where public opinion will flow like mercury out of a celsius thermometer, finding where American lifestyle fits into global parameters, metrics being one minor measure of change.

We are indeed nationalizing goals, but the country is still big enough geographically to compel central planners to acknowledge viable regional differences. It happened at the conclusion of the Civil War. It happened after Vietnam.

And viable regional values are stabilizing, indeed synthesizing with national influences. We are seeing a breakdown of incompetencies held to know more than the people meant to be served.

High State Officials Rap Energy Program

High level state officials are continuing to express their objections in strongest terms to President Carter's energy program.

While Gov. Dolph Briscoe was lobbying with a House-Senate conference committee in Washington, D.C., for additional production incentives, the Texas Energy Advisory Council unanimously urged the conferees to ditch key presidential proposals.

Briscoe, indignant at White House cancellation of a conference with governors on production matters, charged there is no way the Carter program can meet its goals.

The state council, made up of major Texas officials, meanwhile, advised killing a crude oil equalization tax as a burden on Texas consumers, the economy and state governmental ability to levy the taxes necessary to finance services.

Other features of the resolution included recommendations to reject the House proposal to tax business and utility users of oil and natural gas, adopt the Senate version of natural gas pricing and assign priority in natural gas supply and pricing preferences to gas used for irrigation pumping and crop drying.

The council further went on record for a White House conference to discuss with the president how to achieve his coal production goals consistent with national environmental objectives. And members urged research into agricultural products as possible alternative sources of energy.

Appointments

Gov. Briscoe made two major appointments back-to-back October 28.

He named Steven C. Oaks, 39, Houston attorney, as secretary of state succeeding Mark White who resigned to run for attorney general.

Immediately afterward, he announced the selection of former State Rep. John Poerner of Hondo to succeed Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon who resigned effective December 31. Poerner will take over January 1 and serve until the next general election.

Another major appointment announced recently was that of Harvey D. Davis of Temple as executive director of the Texas Department of Water Resources.

Bob Bain, Fort Worth Star-Telegram capitol bureau chief for the last seven years, joined Briscoe's staff November 4 as press secretary. Charles D. "Chick" Morris, who has held the position since April 1976, became director of public information for the Texas Criminal Justice Council.

Hearings Set

Texas Air Control Board held 24 hearings this month to determine what citizens want to do about new requirements in the Federal Clean Air Act.

New amendments will "affect the daily lives of every Texan because of the sweeping changes required in the state's air pollution control program," TACB Executive Director Bill Stewart said.

Hearings were conducted in Waco, Wichita Falls, Bryan, Abilene, Beaumont, Lake Jackson, Dallas, El Paso, San Antonio, Harlingen, Austin, Houston, Tyler, Odessa, Corpus Christi, Longview, Laredo, Texas City, Fort Worth and Victoria during the first week of November.

Other hearings were set for Denison and Texarkana November 10, Lubbock November 14 and Amarillo November 15.

Courts Speak

Negligence of a pathologist who ordered radiation treatment for a man mistakenly diagnosed as lung cancer victim cannot be the basis of a suit against a hospital when the doctor was not an officer or employee there, the Supreme Court held.

In other action, the high court affirmed rulings awarding $80,000 and a $586 a month pension to heirs of a telephone company executive, T. O. Gravitt, who committed suicide.

The Supreme Court also turned down the suit of a suspended Potter County attorney seeking reinstatement following allegations he had taken county property and misapplied funds.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the attempted murder conviction of a Shelby County man based on a faulty indictment.

Attorney General Opinions

A newspaper used for legal notices must meet the requirements of Article 28a of civil statutes, including entry as second class postal matter in the county of publication, Atty. Gen. John L. Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Legislation permitting incorporation of an area with at least 8,000 residents located within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another municipality is not unconstitutional as a local or special law.

A bill which abolishes the civil, criminal, juvenile and

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

People who think everybody -- not just kids but everybody -- is watching too much television these days have been greatly encouraged by the latest figures on the size of the audience the tube is not attracting.

According to a survey just released, since March of this year both day and night TV viewing has dropped 3.4 per cent per month. The anti-TV people are elated.

This got me to thinking. What are the people who've cut down on their TV viewing now doing with their time? Has it improved them any?

I can't tell any difference. I know they say it's more ennobling at the close of day to watch a sunset than Walter Cronkite, but while there's been no survey made, I doubt if sunset watching has gone up as TV watching has come down. Furthermore, if some more are watching sunsets, despite the fact it may lead to nothing more than bad poetry, is it any less irksome to have the view interrupted by an incoming jet than it is to have Walter Cronkite interrupted by a commercial for false teeth? Not to mention some of the more outrageous ads.

On the other hand, it may be that TV watching has come down because lots of sets have blown a tube and the owners are saving their money to apply on their utility bills.

Still other people say TV watching has come down because the programs have gotten worse. I doubt it. Programs already were as bad as they could get. It's said that TV producers design shows to appeal to the minds of 12-year-olds. This is wrong. TV shows are produced by people with 12-year-old minds.

Finally, other anti-TV people say cutting down on TV watching gives us a chance to enjoy the pleasures of the lost art of conversation.

I have listened to some of that conservation. Turn on the set. Let's see what's on tonight.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Short Snorts

The State Board of Education will approve the final list of textbooks for adoption at its Saturday (November 12) meeting following a public hearing by the board's committee of the whole Thursday.

The tenth job matching fair to help the unemployed find jobs is scheduled November 19 in Cisco.

Brooks, Cameron, Hidalgo, Jim Wells, Maverick, Starr, Webb, Willacy and Val Verde counties were designated disaster areas due to economic injury from peso devaluation.

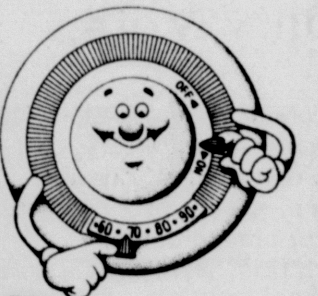

Comptroller Bob Bullock said his auditors collected an additional $81 million in taxes owed the state during fiscal 1977.

The Railroad Commission has suspended a 57 per cent increase in rates for natural gas service in unincorporated areas of Limestone and Freestone counties and ordered a hearing on the Brown Oil and Gas Company proposal for December 20.

U.S. Marshal Clint Peoples received the governor's tourist development award for helping establish the Fort Fisher Park complex in Waco.

Alonzo King of San Antonio received the Texas Hospitality award, and Ila Loetscher of South Padre Island received a special citation for saving endangered species of sea turtles. Presentations were made at the 12th annual Texas Conference on Tourist Development here.

SAVING TIPS on electric heating

1. Keep heating equipment at top operating efficiency. Have it checked seasonally by qualified serviceman.
2. Set thermostat at 68° or lower. Lower to 50°-60° if you'll be away several days.
3. Weatherstrip doors and windows; caulk cracks to prevent drafts and warm air loss.
4. Check the filter every 30 days on forced-air systems. If filter is permanent, clean it by manufacturer's directions; if it's disposable, replace if dirty.
5. Thorough home insulation keeps the warmth in, cuts energy use. Can pay for itself by lowering heating (and cooling) costs.
6. When fireplace is not in use, keep damper closed.
7. On sunny days open draperies, blinds to let in warmth of sun.
8. Open outside doors as little as possible.
9. Keep furniture, draperies away from air outlets and returns so air will flow easily. Clean often.

County Agent's Notes

Farming Operations At Virtual Standstill

By Bill McCutchen
Milam County Extension Agent

Farming operations have been virtually at a standstill in the blacklands since cotton harvest was completed over a month ago. Soils have been too dry and hard for normal stalk destruction and land preparation. Farmers have been waiting for rains to make soils workable but they have been slow in coming.

Grain sorghum stubble is almost in as good a condition as it was when shredded in July and a lot of poor cows would still find it a good meal.

Stubble will likely be a problem in land preparation and planting next Spring because of lack of stalk deterioration.

Normally quite a lot of yellow herbicides for cotton weed control and fertilizer would have been applied by this time of year but because of unworkable soils and stubble most farmers have delayed incorporations and fertilizer applications.

Small grains continue to have

Cow-Calf Clinic Set At Milano For Cattlemen

MILANO

The Central Texas Cow-Calf Clinic should be on every Texas cattlemen's agenda. The program will be held at Bode's Livestock Commission Co. here Jan. 6.

The clinic will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and is designed to help cattlemen get the new year off to the right start. Cattlemen will get a brief but intensive exposure to solutions to some of the more important problems that they might find in their own herds, says Terry Locknay, Falls County Extension agent and publicity chairman.

Discussions will be featured on bull fertility, herd health, supplemental feeding, and new research on crossbreeding systems. Live demonstrations will accompany some of the presentations.

Speakers will include Dr. Terry Greathouse, associate dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University; Dr. Frank Mann, Wharton veterinarian; Dr. Keith E. Gregory, geneticist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture; Dr. Dennis B. Herd, Dr. John Beverly and Dr. John Spitzer, all specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service; Frank Litterst, manager of Texas A&M's Beef Cattle Center; and Dr. David L. Morris, veterinarian with A&M's Large Animal Clinic.

A barbecue lunch will be served.

problems, some have been replanted twice and inadequate soil moisture is threatening what few small grains that are up and growing. I still expect a good bit of wheat to be planted in November if good rains are received soon.

Peanut harvest is well underway but the crop is about as disappointing as the rest of the agricultural situation in 1977. Many peanuts received no rainfall from the time they were planted until harvest time. Yields are generally low and showers during harvest season aren't helping grades.

The hay crop was almost cut in half this year because of drought and the impact of this is being felt now and will be continually felt throughout the winter. A lot of cattle have gone to market and more will probably be going after frost because of short pastures, a short hay crop, and stock water problems.

Vets Outline Program For Beef Management

Small and part-time beef producers need to be concerned with an adequate, yet simplified management system for their beef herds.

Dr. John Spitzer and Dr. Dennis Herd, livestock specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Washington County veterinarians Dr. Oscar Bockhorn and Dr. David Husfeld have outlined a program emphasizing minimum management and health requirements for spring calving cows in Central Texas.

"Individual modifications need to be made, but this program represents what we feel are the basics for this area of the state," says Spitzer.

JANUARY 1 -- Calving commences. Increase nutrition to cows nursing calves. Watch calves for scours.

FEBRUARY 1 -- Have veterinarian conduct a breeding soundness evaluation of your herd bull.

MARCH 1 -- Vaccinate cows for vibriosis and leptospirosis. Deworm cows. Control lice. Vaccinate older calves for blackleg, malignant edema, Black's disease and leptospirosis.

APRIL 1 -- Turn bulls with cows to begin breeding season.

MAY 15 -- Vaccinate all calves for blackleg, malignant edema, Black's disease and leptospirosis. Castrate, dehorn and identify calves. Control hornflies.

JUNE 30 -- Remove bulls from cows to end breeding season. Control grubs. Vaccinate all heifer calves for brucellosis. Consider supplemental protein on late summer pastures.

Congress OKs Funds For Boll Weevil Fight

Cotton producers in North Carolina will soon begin an all-out campaign to bid the legendary boll weevil a lasting farewell.

Recent congressional passage of $1.7 million for boll weevil eradication completes the necessary funding arrangement required to begin a trial eradication program on about 30,000 acres in northeastern North Carolina. The U. S. Department of Agriculture, since passage of the funding, has announced initiation of the eradication program in 1978.

The trial program will last three years. If the first two years show the expected results, the program will be expanded gradually to include the rest of North Carolina. With success the program would eventually be carried south and west until the boll weevil is driven back across the Rio Grande.

Zanzibar is practically the world's sole producer of cloves.

Sister Pauline Urges Citizens To Protest

What is a hospital? According to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, a hospital should be a facility in a city over 100,000 or within 45 minutes traveling time.

Proposed HEW regulations would reduce the number of hospital beds across the country by 17,500. This will be accomplished by closing most small hospitals.

Sister Pauline, administrator of St. Edward Hospital in Cameron, urges citizens to write the President and their Senators to protest HEW's proposed regulations, that would mean the possible closing of the hospital and increased traveling time to get medical attention.

They should write: President Jimmy Carter, The White House, Washington DC 20500; Lloyd Bentsen, U. S. Senate, 240 Russell Senate Bldg., Washington, DC 20510; or John Tower, 142 Russell Senate Office Bldg., U. S. Senate, Washington DC 20510.

Clubs In Action

Beta Nu Chapter

Beta Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met for a brunch Saturday, November 5, at 9:30 a.m., at the Copper Kettle near Rockdale, with the Rockdale members in charge of arrangements. The invocation was given by Mrs. F. E. Bayless of Rockdale. Mrs. Jesse E. Holloway of Rockdale was in charge of a ceremony commemorating the 42nd birthday of Beta Nu Chapter. Mrs. F. E. Bayless of Rockdale played American Heritage songs popular in 1935 for a contest of recognition.

For Program No. 2 of "Progress Toward Achievement," Mrs. Doris Gleason of Cameron, chairman of the research committee, had the members complete a questionnaire to be evaluated at Delta Kappa Gamma headquarters, as a follow-up of the program given last year.

Mrs. Enos Lumpkin of Marlin, vice-president, showed slides of the Window Rock Navajo College in northern Arizona, in which Delta Kappa Gamma is greatly interested. Mrs. Eula B. Carter, one of the teachers, lives near the college in a trailer house bought by Delta Kappa Gamma.

The Indian college employs its heritage by using the Hogan design in the arrangement of its buildings, and the Navajo colors and art in the decor. Mrs. Edna M. Boyd led in Delta Kappa Gamma involvement in the college. She has written books on her work there, and gives her royalties to the college.

Delta Kappa Gamma gives four scholarships yearly to students there who desire to pursue their education.

Mrs. N. B. Range of Marlin, president, during the business session heard a report on the Beta Nu scholarship fund. Members of the chapter to receive such a scholarship must apply by January 1978 and must use it for higher education.

Thirty-nine members were present for the meeting.

Porcelain Art Guild

The Cameron Porcelain Art Guild met Thursday morning Nov. 3 with guest artist Mrs. Mary Brumley of Temple teaching new methods in painting and firing china.

The Guild met again that evening for a social time with sandwiches and all the trimmings, apricot salad, cake and hot tea served by the hostesses, Maurice Heitman, Lillian Burrier and Ruby Mosley.

President Eula Crook conducted a short business session and more plans were made for the Christmas party set for Dec. 1 at the Community Center. Ways and means committee made more plans to raise money for future use.

Visitors receiving a welcome included Bernice Balanos of College Station, Sarah White of Maysfield and Lucille Wilhite of Belton.

Mrs. Brumley was introduced by Molly Richter, and demonstrated painting wild roses, back ground colors and shadows, and explained how to fire china in an easier way with less time.

Home Demonstration Club

Mrs. Chris Holcombe gave the program when the Cameron Home Demonstration Club met last week in the home of Mrs. Raymond Richter.

Mrs. Holcombe, county Extension agent, showed how to make lots of small Christmas gifts and tree ornaments, and shared recipes for Christmas cooking. Members also enjoyed a tasting of some of the goodies.

Business-Professional

The Business and Professional Women's Club met Monday evening at the clubhouse, with Mrs. Eunice Lawrence opening the business meeting.

Mrs. Ruby Mosley gave the opening prayer and Miss Hazel Williams gave the secretary's report.

Thirteen members were served refreshments by the hostesses, Miss Hazel Williams and Mrs. Logan McWilliams. The next meeting will be November 21.

Bridal Luncheon, Shower Fete Miss Bornfeld

Miss Cynthia Bornfeld of Dallas was honored with a bridal luncheon and bed and bath shower at the home of Mrs. Marvin Feldman on Sunday, October 30. Hostesses for the luncheon and shower were Mrs. Marvin Feldman, Mrs. Herschel Feldman and Mrs. Stephen Fishman.

FALL LINE-UP FASHIONS

Fall's new fashions ARE for you. Don't doubt, just adapt. Consider these fashion facts, whether you're buying, sewing or updating from last year:

-- A crosswise line looks best if it falls above or below a curve, not at the widest part -- unless you want the curve to look larger. Jacket and skirt lengths are particularly important examples.

-- Vertical lines such as center front or back pleats, slits and rows of buttons are slimming and lend height.

-- Gently curved lines, such as soft gathers, usually enlarge the area where they are placed. The fuller the gathers, generally the fuller the figure appears to be at that point.

Try on, look critically, and evaluate. Design lines are just part of the total effect along with color, texture, fabric pattern and accessories.

To get the most of your time and money, select current fashions that are most becoming to you.

COTTON FASHIONS

For fashion with comfort this fall, look for cotton. Cotton's characteristics make it ideal for transitional weather.

It breathes and feels good close to the skin. In lightweight fabrics, it is cool when the weather is hot. Layered or quilted, it's warm when the weather's cold.

A variety of cotton fabrics will be fashionable for '77.

Ribless corduroy will be "it" for tops, pants, skirts, and suits. Colors will be jewel tones, such as emerald, ruby, and garnet that "go with" earth colors -- camel, sand and gray.

Sporty denim and brushed cottons will show up in all shades of indigo. Blue denim teamed with khaki will give a fresh look to fall wear.

Poplin, especially in bright colors, will turn out in rainwear, sportswear, and jackets. Quilted poplin will lend variety and color to the fall coat scene.

For elegance, day or night, velvet is back in black -- in suits, pants, skirts, and jackets.

Civic Garden Club Sets Flower Show

The Civic Garden Club will have a placement flower show with the theme "The Harvest is Plentiful" Thursday, Nov. 10 at the Milton Falkner home at 1602 N. Cleveland. General chairman is Mrs. Theo Aschenbeck and the public is invited.

Births

To Mr. and Mrs. Michael Young of Rt. 2, Cameron, a boy, Michael Dean II, 8 pounds 4-1/2 oz. born October 31 at 10:23 p.m. at St. Edward Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nolen of Rockdale and Mrs. Marvin R. Young, Sr. of Cameron.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Harbour of Rogers have just returned from Denton where they attended Homecoming activities of North Texas State University, their alma mater, for the first time in years. They visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Phillips of Denton. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Harbour were close friends in college.

New Antique Shops Open In Calvert

A Sunday afternoon stroll through downtown Calvert and the antique shops can be a pleasant and informative experience. A wide variety of people can be found in the shops as visitors and as owners.

Two more antique shops have just opened, helping Calvert to add to its claim as "The Antique Center."

Pam and Andy Milner have opened Castle Antiques in the same block as the old Elois Theatre. This shop specializes in antique English furniture, china, glass and bric-a-brac. Andy Milner, originally from the United Kingdom, has an import business in Houston which brings lovely English antiques to this country.

In the same block, "The Mustard Seed" opened Saturday. The building was remodeled and lattice work decorations were added outside. Owner Mike O'Neill says that the shop will specialize in "primitives and American Primitives."

O'Neill has included some items from his private collection of early lighting devices. Some of these devices were used in the book "Early American Lighting" by Don and Carol Raycraft.

One of the illustrations in the book is of an "iron pan lamp or cruse found in Pennsylvania, circa 1750." The cruse is an iron grease lamp.

Mrs. O'Neill, Marie, is operating the shop, while her husband works in his businesses in Houston. The O'Neills have two daughters, Kim and Tina, who have helped in getting the shop ready.

ON THE WAY - The First Methodist Church Pony Express stewardship campaign is on the way. Shown standing is John Batte, "station agent," handing the "saddlebag" to friend, Bud Shipp on the horse.

Church To Mark 25th Anniversary

The congregation of the United Church of Christ of Ben Arnold will observe the 25th anniversary of its founding on Sunday, November 13, with a special anniversary service beginning at 10:30 a.m.

The Rev. Clifford E. Wierth is the pastor. Rev. James Tomasek Jr. of Austin, the conference Minister of the South Central Conference of the United Church of Christ, will be guest speaker.

A Confirmation Reunion will be held in the afternoon beginning at 2:30 p.m. There will be a brief service of worship to be followed by a period of fellowship, renewing old friendships. Refreshments will be served.

The Rev. Robert Kalkbrenner of Cameron, a former pastor will participate in the reunion service.

It was in 1901 that early settlers in Austin County migrated to Milam County to settle in the Vogelsang Community. Several families, desiring to worship together, first met in their homes, and then in 1903 under the leadership of Pastor John Strauss, organized into a congregation, becoming known as the St. James Evangelical Lutheran Church. A little later, families also migrated from Austin County, settling in and around Burlington. Here the St. John Evangelical Lutheran Church was organized in 1915, also under the leadership of Pastor Strauss.

Over the years the two churches grew in Christian love and fellowship under the leadership of their pastors. It was in 1952 that the two congregations decided to unite into one congregation, becoming the United Evangelical and Reformed Church of Ben Arnold.

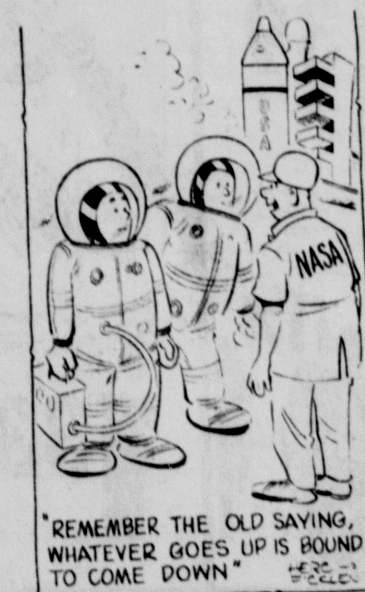

Today, the congregation is a member church of the United Church of Christ.

Members and friends are cordially invited to the morning services of celebration. All former members who were confirmed in either of the former churches or the present church and friends are invited to the confirmation reunion.

CHURCH SERVICES

The Pony Express program will be kicked off with a breakfast in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church this Sunday morning at 8 a.m. The breakfast will host the Trail Bosses who will be presented with their saddle bags and given instruction for delivering them to the families on their mail route.

The 13th Sunday of the Kingdomtide season will be observed at the morning worship services at the Tracy and Cameron Methodist Churches this Sunday. Judge Don Humble will present the stewardship message at the worship service.

REMEMBER THE OLD SAYING, WHATEVER GOES UP IS BOUND TO COME DOWN

The world of tomorrow will be quite a place. A button will be pushed, and it will rain. Planes will wing through the heavens at 5,000 miles an hour. Freight will be shot across the continent by missile. Hurricanes will be halted in their course and sent back to sea.

Sound fantastic? Maybe. But time has a way of making the fantastic and incredible become commonplace. Few of us marvel over television any more. We take it for granted.

along with the other wonders of today's modern world.

The future is frightening for many of us to think about. The unknown has always held a basic fear in the minds of some. Coping with the problems and challenges of the present is enough for most of us.

But whatever the future holds, each of us can march more confidently into it by trusting God. Attend His church regularly.

Yoemen -- Pflugerville Contest To Wrap Up Season Play

By Mike Peck

The Cameron Yoemen will be out to win one more time this Friday night, as they play host to the Pflugerville Panthers in their closing district 23 AA clash.

The Yoemen have tallied a respectable 6 win and 3 loss record thus far in the season, while the Panthers came on strong early in the season, winning their first five games, then dropping the last four, their fourth loss coming last week against the Rosebud-Lott Cougars.

"But let's put all previous records aside," says Yoemen Head coach Max Graham, as the Panthers will come to town, with an offense and defense unlike any the Yoemen have faced all season.

The Panthers run a 6-1 defense, with two deep halves, #40 Alan Hull and #36 R. L. Zimmerman. Graham feels that the Panthers middle linebacker Greg Brown should be rated as their top defender, stating that Brown is a good player and goes to the ball.

Others to watch in the Panthers starting defensive lineup will be Jimmy Frosch a 175 pound defensive end who also aids the Panther offense at tight end and David Priam a Junior defensive tackle, weighing in at 185.

On the Panther defense, Graham said "It's a new defense than what we are not used to seeing, and it will be hard to get wide on them."

Being the middle linebacker and best Panther defender is not the only chore that Greg Brown is accustomed to as he will also be calling the signals for the Panthers offensive attack.

The Panther offense runs out of a split backfield, having two halves, a tight end and flanker to one side of the line and a split end to the opposite side. Graham cites senior halfback Lofton Levels as not only the best Panther back, but also as one of the best halves in the district while Phil Buckley, the other Panther back is not to be underestimated, having good size and speed.

The offensive combination to watch for will be Brown to Levels aerial, as Brown like to hit the halfback for short gains in the flat.

The Yoe defense will be at the ready, with Jimmy Zalesky and Ray Riley at tackles, John Schmidt and Nathaniel Whitfield at ends, Stephen Hollas and Chris Jenkins at the inside linebacker position, halfbacks Billy Pittman and Errol Spells, Albert Hanel, at center and David Rosemond and Wayne Steamer at safeties.

Offensively the Yoemen will look as they have all season, with Wayne Steamer calling the signals, Dean Lewis and David Rosemond will alternate at the halfback slot, wingback Curtis Wise, fullback Errol Spells, Hanel at center, guards Gary Lewis and Charles Hardaman, tackles James Thompson and Zalesky, tight end Ronald Cobb and split end Roderick Kelley.

Ferrari's Italian Team Beset By Conflicts After Prix Win

By David Smith
ROME

Reuter - When Enzo Ferrari, the grand old man of motor racing, won his eighth world championship recently he had little cause for celebration.

Reporters who called his home got a terse response. No, Mr. Ferrari had nothing to say about Niki Lauda's fourth place in the U. S. Grand Prix that clinched the world championship again for the Italian team.

And Ferrari, now 79, but still very much in charge of the company he founded nearly 50 years ago, has had nothing to say since.

For this Formula One season has seen his team beset by conflicts -- on and off the track -- which have led to Lauda resigning and taking Ferrari's chief mechanic with him.

Worse still, Ferrari, known by the honorific title of "Commendatore," has been unable to tempt any of the current stars to replace Lauda. The man who expects all his cars to be winners can apparently no longer select or reject the men who drive them.

It was all so different two years ago when Lauda won his first championship for the Italian team and Ferrari toasted his first world title in 11 lean years.

Mutual admiration between driver and boss was overflowing. The Austrian dedicated his title to Enzo. In reply, Ferrari insisted it was Niki's superb driving that had given the team its edge over the rest of the Formula One world.

But when Lauda finally took this year's championship at Watkins Glen, New York, the contrast was remarkable.

Ferrari said nothing and it was left to Umberto Agnelli, vice-president of Fiat, which has the controlling interest in Ferrari, to congratulate the team and its driver.

Lauda did not miss the irony of the situation -- or an opportunity to point it out.

"I've received congratulations from all over the world, even from Fiat," he told reporters before pulling out of the Canadian Grand Prix the following week.

"But, I've not heard a word from Commendatore Ferrari, not one word about the World Title I have won for myself and for his team."

By that time Lauda had already done the unthinkable and quit Ferrari, discarding the team just as its boss has dispensed with so many drivers over the past 25 years. He will drive for Brabham next year.

The Austrian and Ferrari were a phenomenally successful combination. In four years, they won 15 Grand Prix races and two world championships -- and could justifiably claim they would have taken a third had not Lauda crashed so badly in last year's West German Grand Prix.

The relationship between "Commendatore" Ferrari and his one-time protege soured in the wake of the serious injuries suffered by Lauda at Nuerburgring in West Germany -- and the consequent loss of the world championship to James Hunt and McLaren.

Tension inside the Ferrari camp was exacerbated by the Italian press, which accused Lauda of "cowardice" when he pulled out of last year's Japanese Grand Prix -- the race that made Hunt champion -- because of the dangerous, wet conditions.

Since he signed for Brabham last month, newspapers here have repeated that charge and even hinted that he is not worthy of a place in the Ferrari team.

After Lauda's crash, Ferrari quickly signed Brabham's Carlos Reutemann to replace him. To the Austrian lying critically ill in a hospital, the move seemed to have been made in indecent haste.

At the end of the season, after Lauda's courageous return to the track, Reutemann ousted veteran Swiss driver Clay Regazzoni from the team.

It was a typical Ferrari move -- an ambitious star to replace a driver probably past his best. But it clearly didn't please Lauda who saw the threat to his own position.

He after all had been the young foil to Regazzoni's experience when he joined Ferrari in 1974.

When this season started -- and Reutemann won the Brazilian Grand Prix after finishing well ahead of Lauda in Argentina -- Italian journalists had an urgent question for Ferrari.

"Who is your number one driver, Commendatore?"

They were told there was no number one or number two in the Ferrari team -- just drivers.

Plans are being made for the Pilgrimage which will be held April 1 and 2, 1978. Susan McClure is in charge of publicity and the brochure this year. She will be assisted by Terry Hayes.

Members of the Robertson County Historical Commission have chosen seven sites to be included in the tour. A new house, which is still under construction, will be added this year. Jeannie Wiese, Dorothy Norman, and Roberta McCrary worked together to select the places to be included.

McClure advises that the Pilgrimage will be expanded and that more homes will be open. Besides the tour of homes, there will be an arts and crafts show on the grounds of the Robertson County Museum. Students and faculty of Texas A&M University will have work for show and sale. A barbeque is planned. The Flea Market will be held during the Pilgrimage weekend. And the Calvert Hotel Players will have special luncheon and evening dinner theatre productions.

Calvert band director, Adolphus Jernigan, has said he would be willing to work with such a group.
